SANITARY CO. TO DOUBLE PLANTS

ONE KILLED SIX INJURED IN OAKLAND CRASH

Addition Will Mean 600 Families and Big Payroll

IMPROVEMENTS WHICH WILL MEAN AN ADDITION OF $800,000 TO ANNUAL PAYROLL WILL BE ANNOUNCED JANUARY 1, 1926

Plans to practically double the size and output of the plants of the Pacific Sanitary Manufacturing company are under consideration by the company it was announced yesterday by Frank Kales General Manager of the plants here.

This will mean that the employees of the plant will be increased from 900 to 1500 and that the payroll now approximately $1,200,000 per year will be increased to approximately $2,000,000.

In addition to the extensions which will be made at the plant the bringing of 600 new families into Richmond will mean one of the biggest industrial increases which has occurred here in some time.

Although a definite announcement will not be made by the company until January 1, 1926 Kales who has just returned from a three weeks' conference at Pittsburgh with officials of the company points out that the above plan is the only practical solution to the problem of increased demand for the output of the company on the Pacific Coast.

With the consolidation of the local company with the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company at Pittsburgh recently the largest plumbing manufacturing company in the world was created. Newton W. Stern was named as Pacific Coast president.

The plan is now being given serious consideration by officials of the company to concentrate their manufacturing plants on the Pacific Coast, at Richmond and supply all needs of the coast from this plant.

According to Kales the expansion program will mean the doubling of the pottery at San Pablo and the enamelware plant at Fifth and Hensley.

The inadequacy of the Richmond plants to supply the demands for the wares of the company after the consolidation has brought about the determination on the part of the directors to increase the plant here.

Although no definite plans have been announced in that direction as yet it is held probable that the plant of the company at Sixteenth and Barrett may be abandoned and the work now carried on there taken to one of the other plants. It is felt that an extension of that plant is impracticable.

Ass'd Chambers To Meet Tonight

Pittsburg chamber of commerce is to be host this evening to the Contra Costa associated chamber of commerce, Roy Davis, president of the Antioch chamber presiding.

Publicity for the coming year will be discussed, which will probably call for the issuance of a pamphlet similar to the one put out last year, and newspaper advertising in farm papers of the east and middle west.

Reports of progress in this county will show this to be a banner year in agriculture and industries, according to Harry A. Barnes, secretary of the Pittsburg chamber.

DRUGGISTS HAVE COUNTY MEETING

The first meeting in several months, due to the vacation season, was held by the Contra Costa County Pharmaceutical association last night at the Hotel Los Mendanos, in Pittsburg. Dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock and was followed by the business of the association. F. B. LeMoine of Richmond, president, presided. Other officers are George P. Keller, Martinez; vice-president, and Miss Lulu L. Dibetta, Martinez, secretary-treasurer.

MARRIAGE LICENSE
Sam E. Cozso, 25 and Miss Josephine M. Anzalone, 18 of Berkeley, secured a marriage license in Oakland Wednesday.

RICHMOND MEN CHARGE SAILORS FAILED TO AID

Sailors Fail to Give Aid When Woman Is Pinned Beneath Overturned Car

Charging that no attempt to aid was made by companions of Mrs. Doris Bohannon, 17, wife of a sailor with the U. S. fleet, when she was killed beneath the wreckage of an automobile near Benecia, J. C. Moore yesterday and Jack Wilson of Richmond, state that they are ready to lay the case before the proper authorities for investigation.

According to the story related to the RECORD-HERALD last night by Moore and Wilson, they were on their way to Vallejo at 2:45 yesterday morning, when the car containing Mrs. Bohannon and two sailor companions passed them at the rate of fifty or sixty miles per hour, barely missing a collision with their car. At five o'clock when they were returning from Vallejo to Benecia

Automobile Plates May Be Ordered on November Fifteen

Fees for 1926 automobile licenses may be received as early as November 15, by the division of motor vehicles, it was announced yesterday by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, due to revision of the motor vehicle laws.

The plates, which will be blue and white for the coming year, will not be delivered until a week following Christmas, but Marsh urges applications to be sent in at an early date. Only the white certificate of registration is required this year, but the pink certificate should be kept in a safe place to be used in case of transfer.

Fees for both passenger cars and commercial vehicles, except those electrically driven, will be the same as last year.

Rotary to Have Surprise Program

A surprise is in store for the members of the Richmond Rotary club in the program to be given today under the charge of W. S. McRacken, T. H. DeLap, Frank Mero, Seward Merry, M. J. Bordon and R. E. Slatery. The committee refuses to divulge the nature of the program, but promises it will be of an especially entertaining nature.

An inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs at San Rafael is scheduled for Friday evening, October 23, it was announced yesterday.

Record Herald Leads in News

The RECORD-HERALD has again demonstrated its superiority in the news field for this section. Yesterday morning the RECORD-HERALD carried pictures of the Community Hotel Ground breaking which has been the cause of a great deal of favorable comment.

This morning the Record Herald carries an account of improvements and additions to be made at the Pacific Sanitary Manufacturing Plant which will mean an increased payroll of approximately $800,000 and six hundred additional families for Richmond.

Yesterday the RECORD-HERALD started a series of articles on conditions which have had an effect on the developments of the local waterfront. This series is to continue until a complete exposure has been made of past and existing conditions.

Getting the news FIRST and CORRECT local, national and international is a service that the readers of the RECORD-HERALD are enjoying.

TERMINAL CORP. HAD AGREEMENT WITH THE CITY

Provisions Of Lease For Wharf Privileges Is Set Forth

(Second Installment)
Some of the details of the agreement by which the Richmond Terminal Corporation have been enjoying a monopoly at the city wharf will be of interest to the people of Richmond.

The agreement that the Richmond Terminal Corporation executed with the City of Richmond provided for a term of five years. By its terms the corporation was to have the exclusive handling of all incoming and outgoing freight during the life of the agreement, and was to charge a rate not greater than that being charged for the same character of work at the port of San Francisco.

The fourth section of the contract gave the Terminal corporation the right to use any and all freight handling equipment which the City of Richmond had at that time or which it might acquire in the future, for use in connection with its municipal wharves and warehouses.

Section five provides that the Ter-

Practically All Students Have Been Vaccinated

Only 150 of the students of Roosevelt Junior High school remain without vaccination, Principal F. C. Shallenberger announced last night. Two hundred of the students returned to the school yesterday and it is expected that the remainder will be back today. The Health Center Clinic will again be in operation this morning from 9 until 10 a.m. No new cases have been reported. The health and school departments are co-operating in putting a stop to smallpox here and the officials are pleased with the spirit shown by the parents in heeding the instructions. As yet there have been no cases among the pupils of the elementary schools.

Mrs. Tsar Calfee To Address Women

A lecture on the Republican party platform will be given by Mrs. Tsar Calfee, at the meeting of the Women of the Republican Party, in the chamber of commerce rooms at 8 o'clock this evening. A general study of the party will also be held.

Check Warning Given by Cox

A warning was issued yesterday by Chief of Police Dan Cox to Richmond merchants to be on the lookout for passers of fraudulent checks.

According to Chief Cox numerous complaints have been received at Police Headquarters during the past few days that check artists have been busy. They are said to be writing checks for small amounts part of which goes for payments of merchandise and they then demand the remainder in cash.

Merchants who believe that they can increase their sales by accepting the checks of people they do not know will eventually come out on the small end of the horn according to Chief Cox.

MISSING GIRL SIGHTED NEAR MURDER SCENE

EUREKA, Oct. 15.—On receipt of information from a Gaherville motorist that he had seen Carmen Wagner, 18-year-old beauty parlor girl, sought by authorities ever since the mysterious murder of her companion, Henry Sweet, on a hunting trip last Sunday, Deputy Sheriff Ed Reid of Eureka, Constable Barker of Gaherville, and three assistants re-doubled their efforts to locate the girl.

The search is being centered on the woods near McCay's mill. The motorist said that he had given the Wagner girl a "lift" and had set her down near the lumber mill. She was in company with an unidentified man. The motorist, who accompanied the officers back to the scene of the search was positive in his identification of the girl, he reported. This story definitely dispels the theory that Miss Wagner may have been kidnapped by the slayer of Sweet, as he was apparently accompanying the man with whom the motorist saw her voluntarily.

Both the man and the girl, the driver reported, appeared dirty and exhausted, as though they had been walking far and with little rest. The man carried a heavy canvas bag on his back.

IS THE PRIMARY WORTH WHILE?

The direct primary has had its first real test in New York City. It is by no means certain that it has proved its usefulness as an instrument of popular government.

Those who were eligible to vote enrolled at the election of 1914, with the exception of the new voters. At the election of 1924 Smith polled 936,941 votes. Of these 794,652 enrolled as democrats. This was a very high enrollment, for Smith undoubtedly received heavy republican support when he ran against Roosevelt.

Of the enrolled democrats in this most exciting and vital of all primaries 403,615 voted. That is not quite 51 per cent of the enrolled democrats. It is 43 per cent of those who voted democratic in the gubernatorial election. Senator Walker polled 249,579 votes. That is 31 per cent, or less than one-third of the democratic enrollment; that is not quite 27 per cent of the democratic vote of 1924.

The republican enrollment in 1924 was larger than Roosevelt's vote a—striking sidelight on the strength of Smith and the weakness of Roosevelt; 521,528 votes enrolled as republicans in the city, whereas Roosevelt received only 417,975 votes. Of the enrolled republicans, 134,934 voted in the primary. That is a little less than 33 per cent, or one-third.

We find, then, that not more than half and as little as one-third of a party takes part in a primary even when the contests are as important as they were this year. They are plainly the most partisan wing of the party; they are the voters most closely affiliated with the political machines. In that fact is to be found the reason why the issues of a primary are so rarely the issues that matter to the public. The candidates ignore the independent and pitch their campaign for the regulars. For the regulars the great issue is regularity.

The upholders of the direct primary have yet to demonstrate that the primary makes the path of the independent candidate easier. They have yet to show that the system of double elections which is what the primary gives us, is more satisfactory than one election. They have yet to show that it is superior to the convention system, bad as that system was in many ways.—New York World.

PATRIOTISM IN THE PULPIT

In these days of persistent efforts to undermine patriotism, nationalism and individualism by preaching disarmament, internationalism and communism, it is a relief to hear a voice persistently raised in support of those isms which have made this country what it is and against those isms which would wreck the great work done and yet still so far from consummation. Unfortunately, so much support of the negative isms comes from pulpits occupied by men who purport to preach Christianity. Therefore, it is all the more encouraging to find a minister of the Gospel, who, having personally experienced war's horrors, devotes his time to preaching throughout the country the doctrine of courage. In a recent address, Chaplain Thomas J. Dickinson, who served with the First division in the war, put his finger on the heart of the answer to those who preach disarmament, when he said:

"An army in the hands of despotism is a most dangerous force, while a trained citizenship directed by the will of a free people like America is a protection to civilization. Our school histories are very defective in errors of omission and commission. Children should be taught facts. The citizens of a republic should know the real conditions, otherwise we endanger our national existence. An appreciative citizen trained in American ideals should be the finished product of our schools."—Army and Navy Journal.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Copyright 1925 by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Clothes Are Now Becoming Complicated by Sleeves That Are Long and Ornate.

MANY of the most time-honored traditions of dress have been breaking down of late years—conventions of dress that the Victorians felt as sure about as they did the value of their own long hair. The evening dress conventions seemed fixed for all time. Everyone knew that low necks and short sleeves or no sleeves were proper for evening. That seemed as conclusively settled and secure as the Constitution of the United States or the Bank of England. But no one can be very dogmatic about that any more. At one of the most fashionable resorts in Deauville this summer—where a guard at the doors bars the way to men and women not dressed as he thinks in proper evening attire—a young man got by who wore an evening suit of a becoming brown. And for nearly a century all men have been required to be as somber as undertakers in the evening. And no more than one occasion recently young Englishmen who are regarded as models of fashion have appeared at dances and the theatre in their golf outfits—four-pluses and all. One young man even wore patent-leather dancing shoes with his tweed four-purses.

And now long-sleeved evening frocks have appeared, and not infrequently evening frocks are made as high in the neck as afternoon frocks. The old hard-and-fast rules about short sleeves and low necks seem to be losing ground. There are long sleeved dinner gowns especially that will appeal to many women for theatre and restaurant wear. At the same time there are sleeveless jumpers for morning wear.

Sleeves are varied. There is the long, close-fitting, tapering sleeve that fits well down to the wrist. Then there are wide, full, flowing sleeves, usually of transparent material. There are several that show a gathering of fullness in the wrist band. Most of these are snug over the upper arm. There are sleeves with little puffs just above the wrist-band and sleeves that have a large lantern puff from elbow to wrist. There are few sleeves with wide musketeer cuffs and others with frills of lace hanging about the wrist.

The sketch shows a variety of interesting sleeves. At the extreme upper left-hand corner is a coat sleeve showing an embroidered design and a puff and band of fur at the wrist. Just next to this is a sleeve from a cloth frock trimmed with gilt buttons and piping of gold kid. The wrap just below this is of henna velvet with sleeves of striped metallic brocade edged with fur. In the broken circle at the right is the sleeve of a coat frock of brown velvet trimmed with gold lace and a bold buckle. To the left is in interesting knitted sleeve from a new evening frock and on the little figure at the bottom of the page are sleeves of bright colored embroidery from the interesting frock of black satin.

Some of the shops show sets of collars and sleeve puffs in the neckwear departments. These sets are useful in bringing a last year's frock up to date. Many women who like to keep abreast of the latest fashions are spending quite a little time now remodeling the sleeves of their last year's frock. The little cloth or crepe frock with sleeves terminating above the elbows is given an up-to-date touch by the addition of full sleeve puffs of georgette in a contrasting color. These are pulled into a narrow rather close-fitting wrist-band—not that the shorter sleeves are out of the picture, for some fashionable women refuse to give up, but a last year's frock can be given quite an up-to-date aspect by these puffs confined in a narrow wristband.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

THE COLORS WE WILL WEAR

Will pansy purple still be smart when autumn comes? This is a question that women are asking when they make preliminary plans for their new autumn clothes. There will undoubtedly still be a good deal of the purple shades worn, but it must be remembered that the bright pansy purple is far better for outdoor wear than for indoors. It is sometimes forgotten that bright, strong colors do very much better under bright, strong light. That is why the French women of taste choose vivid colors for wear on the sea beaches that she would not think of wearing in the city will persist in feeling that for dull days in drab surroundings you must wear some strong, bright color.

VARYING THE COOLING DRINK

In the refrigerator there should be ginger ale and bottles of various fruit juice preparations—loganberry, grape juice, and other favorites. There should be oranges and lemons, too. And occasionally a pitcher or bottle of cold tea on the ice.

"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a pictureization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

John Mannering, district attorney, rushes to the apartment of Jerome Wallace, his opponent in the coming election, to find his wife, Eileen, there. He accuses her of having been present at the raid, that night, of a notorious inn and she does not deny it. Young Bob Mannering, their son, is in jail, accused of manslaughter in having caused a woman's death in an automobile smash. Wallace was a suitor of Eileen's before her marriage.

"You did this thing, so that your lover might beat me, eh?"
"No," she cried, and again and again, "No," while she tried to press her hands to his lips to stay the words he could not unsay.

Past all reasoning, he thrust back her hands and faced them both. She wild with fear and Wallace with a twisted smile upon his lips.

"You might have waited until morning. Then, you might have learned that tonight I resigned." He made a gesture towards Wallace, the hatred in his tone bitter, biting. "You have a clear field, now."
"D—n you, d—n you both," he cried and made for the door, but only to pause and, turning, point his finger at Eileen. "You've put him in office, d—n him. But, thank God, I can still fight. I'm going to fight him and save my son." Then, Mannering was gone.

Like some demented creature, Eileen followed after him. Through the hallway, into the street, she rushed madly, to come finally to filled the air with the rich odor of resinous pine and hemlock. On the other, the wide reaches of a river, silvery beneath the rising sun, stretched away. Yet Red was not interested in the lumber industry, nor was he given to faring forth upon the water. Taxi cabs, tires, carburetors and passengers summed his world. At the moment, a passenger who rode on and on. Suppose this one proposed to continue on forever? In Red's mind there arose a vision of an extraordinary taxi cab journey. One that would send him on through the years with that motionless sad eyed passenger always behind. Send him on, until he became an ancient bearded man and she a toothless hag. It might seem that this would be the acme of success to one of Red's calling. But he had no such feeling. Rounding a curve, there lay before him a village nestled in the midst of the forest on the bank of the river. At sight of the town came resolution. A novel one too in a taxi driver. He turned and shouted at Eileen. "Say—don't you want to stop at this next town?"

She turned to gaze at him, her face blank, as if she had difficulty in locating herself, to finally nod wearily.

As a man who sees himself relieved of a burden, Red drove on, to finally stop before a little hotel, weather worn and dilapidated. He helped Eileen out of the taxi and she stumbled partway up the steps leading to the rickety porch, where she paused, lacking the strength to proceed.

Intent upon ridding himself of his passenger, Red moved on to the door and thundered clamorously upon it with his fist. For a few moments there was no sign of life, then steps sounded within, the door was opened and a sleepy landlord in his shirt sleeves appeared.

"This here lady," said Red, "she's sick and wants a room."

"I dunno," responded the hotel man doubtfully, scratching his towed head. "Don't nobody but lumberjacks an' mill hands stay here, an' what's more this ain't no hospital."

"She ain't," said Red hastily, "she ain't what you'd call really sick, just tired. What she wants is just rest and she ain't a bit particular how she gets it, so long as she gets it. What's more," he continued, speaking with marvelous confidence upon a subject which had caused him no little personal misgivings, "she's got lots of money and ain't caring about what she pays for anything, so long as she gets it."

Before so fair spoken a recommendation as Red's what innkeeper could remain obdurate, what one long hesitate? Certainly the doubts of this one were promptly dispelled. Hardly had Red ceased speaking than the hotel man, all courtesy and attention in his rough way, was ushering Eileen into the house, up the stairs and down a long hall into a plainly furnished room. There he paused to regard her kindly, if curiously.

"Anything else, ma'am? What we got ain't much, but all you got to do is to holler an' it's yours." Her senses numbed with grief and unutterably wearied by the events of the night, Eileen shook her head, hardly aware of what the man had said. Too dazed had she been to be aware of other things, too. That she had given Reddy a bill of a denomination which had lifted his tried soul from the slough of despond to the heights of joy was a thing to which she perhaps would have given little heed had she realized it. But Reddy, she knew of Diane Hledro's presence, and, above all else, her extraordinary behavior Eileen would have found food for much thought.

For Diane had seen and recognized Eileen, early as it was, that morning. Out for a morning horseback ride, Diane had cantered up just as Reddy had assisted Eileen from the taxicab, and she had paused uncertainly on the hotel steps. The sight of Bob's mother waiting there had affected Diane strangely. Turning white as a sheet, she had swayed so far in the saddle as to almost lose her seat. Recovering herself with an effort she had swung her mount about and applying the whip to the mettlesome beast had fled the town.

PIRATE PICTURE WILL BE SHOWN AT WESLEY M. E.

Two words which are used extensively in Rafael Sabatini's popular novel, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at the "Family Night" program of Wesley Methodist Church tonight, are frequently used as synonyms, although there is quite a shade difference in meaning. The words are "pirate" and "buccaneer."

The story deals with the adventures of Peter Blood as a pirate after he had been condemned by the cruel King James as a slave to the Barbadoes. A pirate has been regarded by all nations to be an enemy of the human race. Piracy is a crime against nations which may be brought before any court no matter what the nationality of the plaintiff or the origin of the pirate may be.

A buccaneer is a freebooter one of the pirate rovers of the 17th and 18th centuries that preyed upon the Spaniards along the Spanish coast of America. The first buccaneers were Frenchmen whom the Spanish authorities had driven from their occupation of hunting and buccaning or curing meat. Although Captain Blood's escapades might better be termed buccaneering he roved the sea almost a century before the buccaneers originated and therefore must, strictly speaking, be termed a pirate.

"Heart of a Siren" Filmed With Help Of Newspaper Men

Certain of the scenes of "Heart of a Siren" with Barbara La Marr and Conway Tearle, required the use of newspaper and movie photographers.

These scenes depicted the entrance of Miss La Marr as Isabella Echevaria, the toast of Paris, in one of the leading hotels of the Riviera with her retinue of servants and attendants.

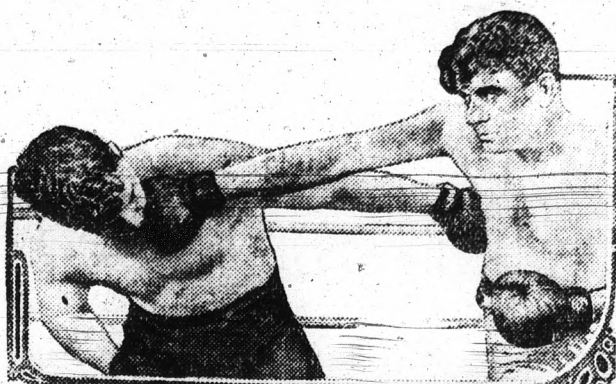

In order to assure absolute realism, Director Phil Rosen secured the services of Lester Lang, well known movie camera man, and Ben Behrens and Bradford Hunt, the latter two being recruited from the photographic staff of New York newspapers.

The three photographers proved themselves excellent actors and lent a most natural touch to this portion of the picture. In addition to Miss La Marr and Tearle, the cast includes such well known players as Harry Morey, Clifton Webb, Arnold Daly, Ida Darling, Ben Finney, Florence Billings, Tammany Young and others.

"The Heart of a Siren" will be offered by First National at the Richmond theatre today, and tomorrow.

Other features include the Last thrilling chapter of "Days of '49," featuring Neva Gerber and Edmund Cobb; Harry Langdon in his greatest screen scream "Horace Greely, Jr."

TEAMS COACHED BY IVAN HILL MAKE RECORDS

Few high schools of any size can boast of a record equalling that of Richmond Union High school as far as football is concerned. The success of the teams is largely due to the coaching of Ivan Hill, director of physical education and coach of football at the school.

Hill's success has been marked since he first came to Richmond in 1920. He takes the material as it comes and never yet has failed to turn out a team that is a winner since he first took up the local work.

The present team is an example of Ivan's ability. At the first of the season the material available for a first-class football squad looked poor. Not overly gifted with ability of experience the team was developed within the space of a few weeks into a world beater. Four games have been won this year, one lost and one tied. Out of six games played Richmond was only scored upon once—three points. The team has amassed a total of 72 points against its opponents.

Ivan Hill graduated from Chico State College in 1916. He was a product of the old days of rugby at that institution. He graduated from the U. C. Summer Coach school in 1920. In 1917-19 he served as a sergeant with Company 1, 159th Infantry, A. E. F. At the present time he holds a commission as second lieutenant with the O. R. C. In 1920 Hill came to Richmond as commandant of cadets, P. E. instructor and mechanical drawing instructor. During the last two years he has been forced to abandon the mechanical drawing end of his work on account of the increased duties with the cadets and athletics.

In the time he has spent here he has turned out teams that have made records. Here is the dope:

Date	Won	Lost	Tied
1920	3	5	1

MIDGETS PLAY TAM THIRTIES HERE TONIGHT

The 130-pound football team of Richmond Union high school will play Tamalpais' 130-pounders on Nicholl field at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The light weights of Richmond are making a good showing this season as they have scored victories in all of their games. Friday's game with Tam thirties will no doubt be the toughest game the locals meet this season. The school is preparing to get out in force and back the Midgets.

PIRATES BEAT SENATORS, WIN WORLD SERIES

By DAMON RUNYON
Universal Service Staff Correspondent

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, (Pa.), Oct. 15.—In the wildest and certainly wettest finish ever seen in a World's Series, the Pittsburgh Pirates struggled through to victory and the baseball championship, over the Washington Senators by a score of 9 to 7 late this afternoon.

These pallid lines cannot hope to inform the reader of the scene that befell when young Hazen Cuyler, outfielder of the Pirates, came up in the eighth inning with the score tied, two out, and the bases full, and slugged one of old Walter Johnson's fast shoots down the first base line, driving home the winning runs.

It was equalled only by a scene produced a moment before when Carson Bigbee, a utility outfielder of the Pirates, batting for Ray Kremer, the Pirate pitcher, knocked in the tying run with a two-bagger. Both scenes were presented by the 40,000 spectators, most of them exposed to a driving rain.

It was an hour after the game before the crowd finally headed out of the ball yard, many of them jamming the streets outside the premises for a peek at the triumphant Pirates as they emerged from their clubhouse in street apparel. Tonight the hotels and cafes of the downtown district resounded to the joy of Pittsburgh.

It was the seventh and deciding game of the series, with each club having won three games. Before it was over, the spectators could scarcely see the ball through the curtain of misty rain, and the outfielders were mere outlines, vague and shadowy.

With two out, Smith doubled. Emil Yde ran for him. Bigbee batting for Kremer doubled to left, scoring Yde with the tying run. Moore walked. Carey hit to Peckinpaugh, whose toss to S. Harris to get Moore at second was high and nobody was put out. Cuyler doubled to right, scoring Bigbee and Moore. Barnhart popped out.

Fortune set her face sternly against Roger Peckinpaugh. The baseball writers dripping in the press section, were thinking of the drama of the situation when Peckinpaugh broke up the tie in the eighth, because Peckinpaugh had contributed to Washington's distress by muffling an easy fly in the seventh, permitting the Pirates to tie the tally.

His homer glossed over a lot of things for Roger Peckinpaugh in the eighth. It looked as if he was to finally emerge from the series in one of the important roles. The entire Washington bench turned out in the rain to give old Roger a cheer as he trotted in from his trip around the bases after that blow.

But baseball fortune is mighty fickle. A few moments later Roger Peckinpaugh had slipped back into a more dismal pose. It seems strange that one of the greatest infielders that ever lived should wind up with more errors in a series of games than any other player has ever made.

FIRST ACTION TAKEN IN CAGE PREPARATIONS

The first definite action toward getting the Richmond basketball league under way was taken at the meeting of the rules and schedule committees in the office of W. L. "Doc" Seawright in Roosevelt Junior High school last night. It was announced that the entrance fees must be in and the teams ready to go into action not later than next preliminary night, when the final preliminary meeting will be held. It was also decided that every player on any team must either reside or work in Richmond.

Games will be played, as in former years, at 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in

MILLER AGAIN CLEAR

Dean Joel Holdebrand gave out an announcement last night that stilled the excitement on the campus of the University of California—Andy Miller, center on the Bruin team will be eligible to play in Saturday's game with St. Mary's. Holdebrand stated that Miller was under investigation for a failed course, but that his record is clear as the subject has been made up.

SIEGEL MEETS MCLEAN

The ten-round main event of Tommy Simpson's boxing program at the Oakland Auditorium next Wednesday night will be between Mike Siegel, star pupil of Jimmy Duffy, an Oakland high school student, and Steward McLean of St. Paul. Siegel has made a sensational rise from preliminary ranks and will get his chance against a good opponent next Wednesday. Johnny Farr and Bud Taylor will head the card on November 11.

ROCKNE PREDICTS LOSS

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—It was predicted today by Knute Rockne, coach of Notre Dame, that the Army would defeat his team Saturday. He said that the Army would win, but the defeat would do Notre Dame good. The fighting Irish have brains and ability, but need a lot of experience. It is understood that the Army has the best team since the war.

HUSKIES OUTWEIGHT U. OF N.

LINCOLN, Oct. 15.—The University of Nebraska football team faces a "weighty" problem in its game here next Saturday with the University of Washington. The huskies outweigh the Nebraskans from 12 to 14 pounds to the man and the quartet in the backfield will go 24 pounds to the man over the locals. Strenuous practice is being held by both teams.

PECK SETS NEW RECORD

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—Today Roger Peckinpaugh, most valuable player in the American League, brought his total of errors for the seven games of the world series up to eight, when he made a wild throw and a muff. Hans Wagner held the record for 22 years. He made six in eight games in 1903, and he was one of the greatest infielders who ever roamed the garden. Peck's case is sad to say the least as he had an almost perfect season. He just got off on the wrong foot in the series, probably the last world series he will ever participate in.

SAINT POWERFUL

Only one man is on the injured list of St. Mary's college as Coach Slip Madigan puts the last touches on the preparation for the "big game" with the Golden Bear on Saturday. The dreams of repeating the victories of those historical days of the "teens" of the twentieth century will come to pass this year if they are to come to pass at all. If you do not believe it ask anyone connected in any way with St. Mary's College.

the gymnasium of the Roosevelt school. Five minutes of grace will be given but if any team is not on the floor by 7:35 o'clock the game will be forfeited.

Practice periods have been arranged as follows: Monday, free; Pullman, Friday; Standard Oil, Wednesday; Santa Fe, Thursday from 8 to 9; McRacken's, Thursday from 7 to 8. When the league is started these periods will be changed to make room for the league games.

If by any unforeseen chance there are only seven teams in the league it will be arranged to have an outside quintet come to Richmond once a week so that there will be no byes. The team that represented Kearney-Furrer last year will not be in the field this year. Eddie Burg is recruiting an aggregation to represent this firm. Any player desiring to go into action is urged to get in touch with Burg immediately.

A number of trophies will be put up. The Spaulding company will present each man on the winning team with gold basketballs. W. S. McRacken will put up a silver trophy for the winner. There will also be a trophy for the runner-up. To keep up the interest among the tail-enders a trophy will be given for the winner of the tail-enders of the Commercial and Industrial leagues.

Following the meeting a practice game was held between the Santa Fe and the West Berkeley Athletic club. The club was the victor by 14 to 13. Manager Cook of the railroaders used the following men: Prizmich, Vierra, Coakley, Hunt Grande, Arthurs and Gillon. The athletic club was represented by Jones, Haberlain, Arvanka, Harold, Carbone, Ed Haberlain.

The W. S. McRacken team was announced last night. It follows: Ralph Lee manager; McLaughlin, captain, Chattleton, Gillan O'Brien, Lehmkuhl, and Muth.

The Standard Oil team was announced by Manager Harry Bonham as: Button, Peters, Paasch, Huzefka, Mino, Carson, Tillotson Lockenhall, Cozine, Novaring and Bonham.

"BIG" GAME TO BE PLAYED HERE ON OCTOBER 24

All cares in connection with games coming before or after this one being cast aside at Richmond Union high school as the team prepares for the "big" game. San Rafael Military academy comes to Richmond on Saturday, October 24, to meet Coach Ivan Hill's unlimiteds. The date was originally set for November 7, but was pushed ahead two weeks.

San Rafael and Richmond have been gridiron enemies for years, and the University of California-Stanford clash will attract no more interest in the two schools than the big high school game of the year.

As a sort of preparatory practice, Hill's cohorts will battle the White preps of Oakland on Nicholl field Saturday morning. White has a fairly good team, but it is no match for the flashy Richmondites. The locals are in no way over-confident, but they are sure they will not have a great deal of trouble in handling this team. They are going out and see just how large a score they can run up.

On November 14, Antioch high will come to Richmond. This is the last game Richmond has scheduled for the year. Hill and Paul Villalobos are still trying to get games, but being out of the leagues makes this rather difficult.

G. THOMAS HAS HIGH PIN SCORE

Bowling fans of Richmond saw a strange coincidence in the games played in the Pacific Sanitary works league at the Barettes alleys last night. The Machine shops and the Pottery batters through three hard games and were tied 2586, all at the end. In the play off the Machine shops were the winners by a narrow margin.

G. Thomas was the high individual bowler for the three games. He turned in a score of 604, adding materially in the win for the Machine shops.

STUDENTS ARE PREPARING FOR ENTERTAINMENT

The assembly hall of Richmond Union High school will be the scene of the big show, at which will appear one of the finest programs ever offered the public on any stage in Richmond. The greatest actors and comedians in the bay region have been engaged.

The great musical comedy, "No, No, Nanette" is to be presented. This play was recently presented at one of San Francisco's theatres and the hit it made there has caused the local committee to procure it for October 30. This musical troupe will sing some of the latest songs such as, "I Want to be Happy," "Lone some" and "Bye-bye."

One big act on the program and one expected to bring forth much comment is the Foot Shuffling Dance, presented by the most graceful male performers to be found in San Pablo. Another number on the program is the rendering of several songs by a famous cracked-voice soloist. This person's name will be withheld until the night of the program. The classic dancer, Pavlova, will send a few of her most brilliant scholars for the Richmond performance, she not being able to come herself, being otherwise engaged on that night.

In keeping with the season a most mysterious Haloween stunt will be featured. It is guaranteed that this play will be ghostly enough to raise the hair and chill the blood of any and all persons in the audience.

Terminal Corporation shall keep all equipment used by it, in good state of repair, at its own cost and expense, and to keep the same properly oiled and cleaned, and to replace any equipment which may be broken or worn out, during the life of the agreement.

It also provides that the Terminal Corporation shall pay the City of Richmond for the use of the equipment the following sums:

For the use of electric cranes, $2.50 per hour for each of said cranes.

For the use of electric elevator platform trucks, $1.00 per hour for each of said trucks, provided the City of Richmond paid the cost of charging batteries used in connection with the trucks.

For the use of donkey engines, $7.50 per day for each of said engines, provided the City of Richmond should at its own expense make all repairs, except repairs costing less than $50.00. All fuel used in the donkey engines to be paid by the Terminal Corporation.

Under section 7, the Terminal corporation agrees to pay for all current used for power purposes, and to pay one half of the cost of current used for lighting purposes.

Section 12, provides that the Terminal corporation shall make monthly settlements with the auditor, and pay over the City of Richmond all sums that may be due for the use of equipment, and electricity on the first Monday of each month.

The agreement was made June 4, 1919, and was signed for the terminal corporation by O. Zugg, as president, and H. M. Wade, as secretary.

In the next installment details will be given of the sums of money that have been paid to the city auditor, by the Terminal Corporation, under the terms of the five year agreement.

Cooperation is not a panacea for all farm ills, but it undoubtedly aids the agricultural health.

WHIST TO BUY XMAS PRESENTS IS SUCCESSFUL

A good sum of money to be used for the purchase of Christmas presents for the inmates of the Old Penitentiary, and people's home at Saratoga, California, was realized at the whist party given by the Past Noble Grand association in Richmond hall last night.

Nearly 160 people were in attendance and the evening was spent in competing for more than twenty prizes, awarded the winners. Mrs. Ida Daley was assisted with the party by Mrs. Mary Bonham and Mrs. Katherine Gasser.

The door prize was won by A. Lakey. The card prizes were taken away by E. M. Pearson, Mrs. C. E. Phibbs, Mrs. C. E. Carlson, F. Kelly, Mrs. R. F. Bonham, Mrs. Effie Bissell, Mrs. F. Beard, Mrs. K. Gasser, Cecil Burke, L. Mason, W. A. Hoes, Nina Terry, R. E. Schrader, G. Holaday, Mrs. J. Hutton, Mrs. J. H. Jessup, Mrs. R. E. Schrader, M. L. Marken, Mrs. J. Nesbitt, M. Stanley, Esther Record, Lillian Carlson, Mrs. Dieckes, George Coffey, J. E. Lansman, Anna Bowen, Mrs. E. M. Pearson, J. Logan, Mrs. A. E. Harris, ladies' consolation, and K. A. Cole, gentlemen's consolation.

they saw the wreckage of the car a short distance from where it had passed them and upon investigation found the dead body of Mrs. Bohannon beneath.

They returned to the road and hailed the first car passing which they said through a strange coincidence, contained the two sailors in the rear seat that had been with Mrs. Bohannon on her death ride.

These sailors are reported to be J. Monroe and J. H. Fox of the Submarine S-6 stationed at Mare Island.

Moore and Wilson according to their story reported the incident to the sheriff and when the sailors were questioned are said to have stated that they didn't make a report of the incident because they didn't see what good it would do.

According to Marshal Anderson and Constable Harnett who placed Monroe and Fox under arrest both of the men were under the influence of liquor.

Monroe is said to have suffered only minor injuries, but Fox is believed to have serious internal injuries.

Mrs. S. S. Sargent of Vallejo, a sister of Mrs. Bohannon, said that she left her home, 539 Main street, night before last to go to a show, that she knew the sailors well and probably had gone for a ride.

JAMES GOUGH TO BE WITNESS IN GOLETT TRIAL

James Gough, alleged swindler in connection with the Golett case, now under a one to ten year sentence in San Quentin, declared to have made full confession of the details and is to be called as witness by the defense, according to attorneys Wilbur Pierce and Tom Carlson who are representing Edwin S. Reeves, C. E. Peacock and Franklin P. Davis, defendants in the trial.

In the confession Gough stated, according to the prosecution, that Davis, Reeves, Peacock and himself were raising money by selling the stock to engage in a gigantic bootleg scheme.

Davis is to be called to the witness stand today.

Peacock occupied the stand under cross-examination yesterday.

LEGION SHOW IS DISCUSSED

A committee of Richmond Post of the American Legion met with representatives of the Foley and Burke company last night and discussed arrangements for the presentation of the show here. The show will be entirely in the hands of the Legion and will be presented during Armistice week, November 9 to 14, for the benefit of Richmond's quota to the American Legion endowment fund. The contract with Foley and Burke will be signed on next Monday night.

Juan Chaves Is Returned to Jail

MARTINEZ, Oct. 15.—Physicians here today declared that Juan Chaves, committed to the county jail from Richmond for 60 days, had not lost control of his mental faculties. He appeared before Judge A. B. McKenzie and the county lunacy commission and was returned to the county jail for the second time after a hearing. Chaves admitted the first time he was in doubt that he knelt before jail attaches but said he merely had been showing respect to his superiors. The last time he was in court he said he was unable to recall having gotten down on his knees.

Seniors To Stage Party Tonight

The seniors of Richmond Union high school will have their first party this evening from 8 until 10:30 o'clock in the band house of the school. All seniors are to bring their "pup" for there will be only two parties this semester and it is desired that these be the best in the history of graduating classes.

MARTINEZ BANK WILL INCREASE CAPITALIZATION

MARTINEZ, Oct. 15.—The American Bank proposes to increase its capitalization from 50,000 shares of $100 par value to 100,000 shares, it was learned today. This would raise the capitalization to $10,000,000 from $5,000,000. The American Securities corporation plans an increase from 50,000 shares of $10 par value to 100,000 shares or to raise the capitalization from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Stockholders of the two institutions will meet on January 12, to pass upon the proposal.

EDWIN E. GRANT GIVEN DIVORCE

The echo of the divorce granted Mrs. Cora Rose from Ezra E. Rose, wealthy contractor of Martinez, last Tuesday was heard in Oakland yesterday when Ex-Senator Edwin E. Grant, president and executive officer of the Law Enforcement league, was granted a decree from Mrs. Bessie C. Grant.

Grant filed suit for divorce, charging that his wife had met Rose clandestinely on several occasions. A week later Mrs. Rose filed suit charging her husband with meeting Mrs. Grant. The testimony of the two plaintiffs was substantially the same.

Grant testified in his suit that Mrs. Grant confessed her love for Rose on August 7 last. She gave an account of the progress of their friendship, he told the court, to wit: Mrs. Grant met Rose on July 21 and he told her he loved her; they took an automobile ride on July 21 and he kissed her; took another ride on July 28 and he kissed again.

CONVICT IS TO DIE ON GALLOWS

PORTLAND, Oct. 15.—Tom Murray, convict in the state prison faces a sentence on the gallows following a verdict rendered by a jury here tonight. The murder trial grew out of a prison break on August 12 when two guards were killed and two other guards were injured and Murray's pal in the attempted prison break was killed.

Ellsworth Kelley and James Willos who escaped with Murray and also were recaptured were on trial today on murder charges.

CHARLES GOFF TO TALK HERE

Captain Charles Goff, former chief of San Francisco's dry agents, will be the speaker before the meeting of McKinley lodge, No. 347, F. and A. M. on Thursday night, B. E. Scobie, master, announced after the session in Masonic hall last night. Scobie said that although Goff has not announced the topic of his talk, it is almost certain to be about his former work.

The second degree was conferred on a candidate at the session. The regular staff of officers, headed by Scobie, performed the rituals in connection with the degree.
